

Zinzino UK general terms and conditions

The general terms and conditions which are described in this text constitute the basis of the agreement between you as a customer and us at Zinzino UK. They govern your rights and obligations with respect to us and our rights and obligations with respect to you. The terms and conditions apply to you as a consumer.

If you have any questions please feel free to contact our Customer Service, who will be happy to help you. Contact information can be found at www.zinzino.com.

1. Who's who?

1.1 When in these terms and conditions we use the terms (a) "we", "us", or "our", we mean the trademark Zinzino UK and its group of companies operating under the trademarks Zinzino. (b) "you" or "your", we mean you, that is, our customer.

1.2 You must be of legal age in order to enter into this agreement. Zinzino does not recognise an agreement where a minor has signed an agreement with the guardian's consent

2. Your agreement

2.1 Your agreement with us with respect to our providing services is hereinafter referred to as "the agreement".

2.2 This agreement is personal to you and applies to you only. This means that you are responsible for compliance with the agreement and that you may not, without our specific written consent, assign any rights or obligations under this agreement to anyone else. This applies even if you were to deliver to someone else the product or products you received.

2.3 The agreement consists of:

(i) the agreement form with your personal data (the "Subscription Agreement")

(ii) terms and conditions specific to the subscription which govern what specifically applies to a particular subscription

(iii) provisions contained in other documents to which we refer in these general terms and conditions, for example price lists; current price lists can be found on our website www.zinzino.com.

(iv) general terms and conditions (this text)

If there are mutually inconsistent provisions in the foregoing terms and conditions, apply (i) in the first place, (ii) in the alternative, and so on. If there is an amendatory agreement, i.e., if something other than what appears in the foregoing terms and conditions has been agreed to, the amendatory agreement will apply.

3. The term of the agreement

3.1 The agreement is binding on you when you have digitally agreed with it or when you have started using the products. The agreement is binding on us when we have received the first, full, payment from you.

3.2 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, if you have chosen a subscription the agreement is for a period in which 6 subscription invoices are paid, which is usually around 6 months.

4. Payment

4.1 You must pay all subscription invoices, reminder fees and similar fees. You must pay for use of the services, for example shipping, which has been charged to you, and for all purchases made through our website and other items that are purchased in connection with your subscription. If you believe that the costs we have charged you are incorrect, please notify us as soon as possible.

4.2 Any taxes, for example sales tax, are to be paid by you and will be added to the invoice.

4.3 All payment processed through our payment process supplier Adyen for UK, are handled by Zinzino Sverige AB as the merchant of record and not ZINZINO UK LTD.

5. Termination of the agreement

5.1 A subscription agreement may be terminated at the earliest after all subscription invoices, in addition to the first invoice, have been paid.

5.2 At any time during the term (but not later than 30 days before it expires), you may notify us that you want the agreement to terminate at the expiration of the term. If you do not terminate the agreement, the subscription will convert to an at-will subscription after the expiration of the term, with a right to terminate on 30 days notice.

5.3 If you wish to end the agreement without having made 6 monthly payments, Zinzino has the right to charge you a fee of 44 pounds per each subscribed product.

6. Suspension of subscription and other services

6.1 Your subscription (or, in some cases, individual services) may be immediately suspended for the delivery of products, as well as for the purchase of other goods or services, if:

(i) important data that you provided to us is incorrect; or

(ii) you commit a material breach of contract; or

(iii) you do not pay the fees notwithstanding a reminder and a warning of the suspension; or

(iv) you are insolvent; or

(v) a governmental authority requests it

7. Modifications of the agreement and of prices

7.1 We may need to make changes in the agreement and in the services. In the event of major changes, we will let you know what they entail and from what date they apply. We reserve the right, in the event of large fluctuations in the world market price for our products, to increase subscription fees to a corresponding extent. In the event of such changes, we will inform you of them.

8. What you must do

8.1 You may use the product only:

(i) in accordance with instructions provided by us; and

(ii) for your own personal use, that is, you may not resell or in any similar way utilise the products commercially.

8.2 You must cooperate with us to ensure your and our safety and you must follow reasonable instructions from us with respect to the use of the products.

9. Dealing with your personal data

9.1 We will need to deal on an ongoing basis with data about you and about how you utilise your subscription. We will use such personal data for the following purposes:

(i) To create and maintain subscription and billing information and to obtain credit reports.

(ii) Administration of the additional services and/or products which you have requested. For example, we must (a) deal with information relating to the payment methods you choose for different purchases. Information on credit card numbers and the like will be encrypted. (b) Marketing of our own and others goods and services. We may also deal with information on how you use the services or with data which you provide to us about your interests, habits, and so on, so as to tailor services and offers. By accepting these terms and conditions, you agree to our sending you direct mail advertising, as well as through automated communication systems, for example e-mail and text messages. You have the right to say no to your data being used for direct marketing, and you may also retract a previous consent.

(iii) In order to be able to fulfil our obligations pursuant to law and to decisions of governmental authorities, and to prevent use which is illegal or otherwise in conflict with the agreement.

(iv) In order to improve our service, we may record your conversations when you phone our Customer Service. For foregoing the purposes we may need to provide others with your data, both within and outside of the EU, to other companies in our group, to suppliers and payment intermediaries, and to governmental authorities. You have the right to obtain information about how your personal data is dealt with and to request that any inaccurate data be corrected. By entering into this agreement you consent to your personal data being dealt with as described above. If you want to say no to some particular treatment of your personal information, or have other questions, please contact our Customer Service.

You as a customer cannot then have them sent to you again, nor receive replacement goods or your money back.

14. Liability

Limitation of our liability

14.1 We will not be liable for any defect in the goods or services resulting from improper handling, negligence, failure to read manuals, instructions or other information published by us or other negligence on your part.

14.2 We will not be liable for inconvenience, damages, or losses caused by shipment of the wrong goods, or by failure of or delay in delivery, if the failure or delay is due to something that we cannot control or could not have foreseen.

14.3 If the delivery of the products and/or services has not functioned satisfactorily because we needed to effect a technical, maintenance related or operational measure as a result of something that we cannot control or could not have foreseen, we are not responsible to compensate for any resultant damage. We must carry out such measures quickly and smoothly so that the interference is limited.

14.4 We will not be liable for indirect damages, for example lost profits, diminished production or sales, obstacles to the fulfilment of commitments to third parties, or the loss of the benefits of agreements. Compensation will be paid only if we, or someone that we are responsible for, caused the injury through negligence.

14.5 demands for damages must be made not later than two years after the damage was discovered or ought to have been discovered. It will make it easier both for you and for us if claims for damages are made in writing.

14.6 If we are unable to fulfil a commitment to you as a result of something that we cannot control or could not have foreseen, we are relieved of liability for damages and other consequences. Such circumstances include, among others, lightning strikes, fire, governmental regulations or other public regulation, widespread labour dispute as well as general lack of transport, goods or energy. A corresponding limitation of liability, so-called force majeure, also applies to you as against us.

16. Other provisions

16.1 Headings in this agreement are only to make the text easy to read and do not have contractual effect.

16.2 If you and we disagree on how this agreement is to be interpreted or applied, and we are unable to reach agreement in some other way, the dispute must be decided by a local court in accordance with local law.
